

Program Outcomes

- 1 Gain the ability to use resource languages more effectively.
- 2 The ability to use Turkish effectively and clearly.
- 3 Acquire awareness of social diversity and professional, ethical and social responsibility.
- 4 Acquire the ability of historical perception and cultural diversity awareness, interdisciplinary study and history and space relations.
- 5 Ability to access resources, collect data, interpret and use appropriate terminology with the technological tools needed to conduct research in the field of history.
- 6 Defining the problems of the field of history, classification, associating them with contemporary theories and producing appropriate solutions.
- 7 As a confident individuals who can produce original ideas with high social and professional communication, they gain the skill of working in every field of life as well as professional and ethical responsibility.
- 8 Acquires theoretical and practical knowledge acquired in the field, skills to provide education and public services.
- 9 Participates in scientific, cultural and artistic activities carried out in the field. It undertakes tasks in the creation and preparation of similar activities.
- 10 Acquire the awareness of the necessity of life-long learning and the skills to realize it.

Learnig Methods

- 1 The ability to equip students with the theoretical and practical knowledge necessary to conduct academic fieldwork and to use them.
- 2 Students should have The analytical thinking, critical thinking, interdisciplinary work, relationship between events, multi-faceted thinking, interpretation and conclusion skills required for a successful history education.
- 3 Having the ability to use English to make written and oral presentations, and to use the source language effectively to collect data.

4 Having the ability to relate history education to current and local, regional and global issues.

5 The ability to use the hardware and tools of contemporary technology.

6 To be able to communicate effectively in written and oral form, to have teamwork skills and to be able to produce original ideas.

7 Students should be individuals with professional ethics and social responsibility.